

Paulo Saab. Graduated in Law from the University of Largo São Francisco, USP, with specialization in Political, Administrative and Financial Law. He has a degree in Journalism, at the Paulista University. He is currently president of the Brazilian Citizenship Institute and the National Association of Vehicle Rental Companies. He is a Managing Partner of LPP Consultoria y Asesoría Empresarial Ltda. He is also a member of the Permanent Council of Social Responsibility of the National Confederation of Industry. He is a political columnist and editorialist for the Journal of Commerce and a Life Member for the Consultative Council of the Commercial Association of São Paulo. He is the author of the books "Countdown" (1982, Nobel Editora), "The Election of the Crusader" (1986, Global Publishing), "1500, The Great Journey" (1991, 1st Edition, Global Editorial, 1994, 2nd and 3rd Augustus Editorial), "Moura Louca", (1998, Editorial Augustus, 2nd edition, 2008, Editorial Conceitos), "Citizenship Now!" (2010, Editorial Conceitos) and "Narratives of a Reporter" (2013, Editorial Vide). He is the former President of ELETROS and ABRADIF and former Director of Expansion of the Bandeirantes Communication Group. Professor of Political Science of the Faculty of Economics of FAAP and Marketing Applied to the Municipality in the course of Postgraduate training of City Managers of the same University. He is a reporter, editor, commentator and anchor of journalistic programs in the Young Pan, Radio and TV Record, among others.