
Mecanismos de
participación
ciudadana:
una experiencia
global

Miriam Kornblith is the Head of the Latin America and Caribbean Program at the National Endowment for Democracy in Washington. She has Bachelor's degree in Sociology from the Andres Bello National University in Caracas Venezuela and Ph.D. studies in Political Science from the Venezuelan Central University (UCV). She was a researcher professor in the Center for Development Studies of the UCV and the Political Studies Institute of the UCV. She has been an invited scholar in the Center for Latin American Studies at Stanford University in California, in the Administration Higher Studies Institute (IESA) in Caracas, and in the Kellogg Institute for International Studies at the University of Notre Dame in Indiana. She was Vicepresident and Board Member of the National Electoral Council of Venezuela.